UCI Paul Merage School of Business

Fully Employed and Executive MBA Programs
Higher earning potential, career advancement and possessing the expertise to seize new opportunities—these are all advantages to earning your MBA while you are working. Whether your goal is to advance in your current profession, change professions, start a new business or bring entrepreneurial leadership to your company, you can leverage what you are learning immediately in your present position, accelerate your career and increase your salary.

The Merage School Advantage

Ranked one of the best public universities in the United States by U.S. News & World Report, UC Irvine celebrates and supports an entrepreneurial, innovative and intellectual environment. A top research institution, UC Irvine excels in a broad range of fields and is recognized nationally and internationally for its schools, departments and programs, including the highly ranked MBA programs at The Paul Merage School of Business.

The Merage School puts your professional goals front and center and provides you with a personalized experience unique among business schools of our caliber. This includes small class sizes, a collaborative culture, world-class faculty and supportive staff who invest time in your success. With rigorous coursework, mentors who are serious about you and your career, an engaged and impressive alumni network, and a pronounced global business focus, your experience both inside and outside the classroom will yield extraordinary professional dividends for many years to come.

The Merage School is consistently ranked among the top 5 percent of business schools worldwide. For more than a decade, the Merage School’s fully employed and executive MBA programs have earned top-tier rankings— all recognizing the school for its quality, faculty, curriculum components, career services and overall value.

The Paul Merage Legacy

An innovative and successful entrepreneur, a philanthropist and champion of education—that’s Paul Merage. He is living proof that a carefully planned career can deliver major success.

After graduating with an MBA from UC Berkeley, Merage researched the restaurant industry to learn what owners and customers wanted. A demographic shift saw more parents entering the workforce. Consequently, he founded Chef America and created HOT POCKETS®, an innovative answer to societal trends.

In addition to his $30 million namesake donation to The Paul Merage School of Business, his constant presence, ready involvement and valuable leadership within the school enhances all that we do to deliver the education you need for your own success.

Global Opportunities

The Merage School’s residential program in Cuba allows participants to better understand the opportunities of this island nation as it faces a new kind of revolutionary change. "We were one of the first educational groups to focus on economic issues relating to the privatization of the housing market, urban redevelopment initiatives and infrastructure, and tourism initiatives," says Kerry Vandell, Dean’s Professor of Finance and director of the Center for Real Estate, of the inaugural trip in 2013. Just one of many international residential opportunities available to Merage MBA students, the Cuba experience is designed to help participants work together inventively toward building sustainable commercial relationships benefiting the economic development in both countries.

"I chose to get an Executive MBA to expand my horizons professionally. I chose UCI because of the curriculum, faculty, schedule and tremendous networking opportunities."

Three Part-Time MBA Programs for Working Professionals

Fully Employed MBA (FEMBA, on campus or hybrid option)

Executive MBA (EMBA)

Health Care Executive MBA (HCEMBA)

These programs are personalized to provide you with a tailored educational experience—one that accommodates your specific professional goals, direction and long-term career growth.

Team-Based Learning Within a Cohort Model

Our FEMBA, EMBA and HCEMBA programs are designed around the cohort system. You will take your core courses together with the students in your cohort and graduate at the same time. You will be assigned to a small study team at the beginning of your MBA program comprised of diverse and accomplished professionals from a variety of interests and backgrounds, and with the collaborative support of team members, you will navigate core classes, showcase your strengths and learn from your weaknesses. The result is a well-rounded, real-world experience of teamwork that broadens your abilities.

Faculty Are Invested in Your Success

At the Merage School, you’ll learn from some of the world’s foremost thought leaders and business innovators—including published authors, researchers and Fortune 500 consultants. Each faculty member has an active interest in your success and takes the time to work with you and help you maximize your educational opportunities. Our faculty members come from the most esteemed institutions in the country—including Harvard, MIT and Stanford—and they bring an incredible wealth of knowledge in addition to hands-on experience.

The Merage School’s faculty received top accolades in the 2015 Financial Times Global MBA ranking, garnering 25th in in the U.S. and 29th in the world for research, and many of our faculty have also lived, worked and consulted overseas.

Fully Employed MBA Program

The Fully Employed MBA (FEMBA) program is a part-time MBA program, ideal for early- to mid-career professionals and managers seeking to advance or redirect careers or achieve entrepreneurial goals. The program is designed to accommodate your busy schedule, help propel your career forward and allow you to focus on your professional interests. We deliver the personal and professional attention you demand to help create new opportunities and enhance your success. The curriculum provides you with more flexibility and opportunity to accelerate.

The FEMBA program provides two scheduling options:
- On-campus: in-class learning, meeting two nights per week
- Hybrid: combines state-of-the-art online learning with on-campus classes held four Saturdays per quarter

KEY COMPONENTS:
- Curriculum consists of 21 courses total, including:
  - Nine core courses / Nine electives
  - Three four- to seven-day experiential, off-site residential courses

- Two different start dates:
  - Spring begins in March and includes summers
  - Fall begins in September (summers optional)

- Scheduling options for classes:
  - On-campus FEMBA
    - Fall start: Tuesday and Thursday evenings
    - Spring start: Monday and Wednesday evenings
  - Hybrid FEMBA
    - Fall start only: online learning and on-campus classes four Saturdays per quarter

- Fees for tuition, registration, parking and hotels for the residential are included in program costs, along with books and course materials for core classes

- The GMAT or GRE exam is required; however, candidates that hold a PhD in a quantitative subject may waive the GMAT/GRE exam

- Partial merit-based scholarships are available for qualified candidates

- More than 50 specialized electives are offered to FEMBA students annually in eight disciplines: accounting, economics/policy/real estate, finance, information systems, marketing, operations and decisions technologies, organization and management, and strategy. Making a Good Business Great

Jon Rettinger, FEMBA ’11 had a specific goal in mind when he decided to earn an MBA: to take his already successful business to new heights. However, he needed the knowledge and skills to communicate with the venture capitalists who were interested in his company. “I wouldn’t be where I am or on the path to where I want to go if it wasn’t for the Merage School MBA program,” says Rettinger. He’s the president and editorial director of TechnoBuffalo, providing consumer electronic news to more than 21 million viewers every month. Within six months of starting the program, he was able to cultivate the income he needed to expand the company, and he’s hired several classmates along the way. “Having a Merage MBA still opens doors for me that wouldn’t open otherwise.”
“My Merage School experience has given me the knowledge, skills and abilities to transform our unit into a source of competitive advantage while adding value to our client offerings.”

Executive MBA Program

The Merage School’s Executive MBA (EMBA) program is specifically designed to meet the unique demands of managers and executives without compromising the rigorous standards of the MBA curriculum. EMBA students are professionals, entrepreneurs and executives pursuing an advanced career path who want to learn to anticipate challenges and strategic opportunities in the global business environment. The program maximizes your return on investment by delivering relevant knowledge and skills, valuable connections with leaders in other industries and prestigious credentials to accelerate your career. Our EMBA program is ranked 30th in the world for Executive MBA by Ivy Exec (2016). Professional experience among these students averages 16 years with a range from 10 to 25-plus years.

Key components:

• 21-month program starts every September
• Curriculum consists of:
  • 12 core courses
  • 2 non-core courses
  • 3 offsite experiential residential courses lasting five to seven days
• Core classes meet on alternate weekends (every other Friday and Saturday)
• Elective classes may meet on alternate weekends, weeknights or hybrid/online.
• A minimum of eight years of work experience with management experience is required
• Fees for tuition, course materials, registration, parking, transportation and hotels for the residential courses are included in program costs, with the exception of airfare to the international residential
• The GMAT/GRE exam is not required, but may be requested by the admissions committee
• Partial merit-based scholarships are available for qualified candidates

In a recent EMBA Student Exit Survey, graduates rated the Merage School 8.8 out of 10 for its ability to advance their careers—higher than all other schools in California and the western United States.
1. Responding to Dynamic Times: Thinking Strategically for Executives (Opening Residential)
Scheduled prior to your first day of class, the offsite five-day opening residential will introduce you to your class and study group of fellow professionals before regular classes begin. You’ll work intensively with your small study team to engage in case analysis, class discussion, presentations, and group projects while learning about senior-level organizational design, culture and power, group processes, competitive analysis, corporate strategy, and business ethics.

2. Global Business II (International Residential)
This unique week-long immersive global experiential course is a highlight of the EMBA program. You will gain first-hand experience in international business through an onsite team project that addresses a real business challenge, which is presented upon completion to the senior executives of the organization. You will also visit with companies and learn how executives effectively navigate through economic, regulatory, and cultural challenges in their host country to sustain a global competitive advantage. Recent residential have included trips to India, Myanmar, Vietnam, Hong Kong, Shanghai, and Chongqing.

3. Executive Leadership (Closing Residential)
The EMBA program culminates in a five-day residential course on executive leadership. This course will provide you with a clear perspective on your assumptions as a leader, as well as how others perceive you as a leader. Through the course, you will learn new tools for improving your leadership as an executive. You will also prepare for the future through the creation of a Career and Life Plan. The focus is on actionable steps that build upon your experiences to move you forward as a leader in your organization and industry.

Path to Her Dream Job
During her final year in the EMBA program, Melissa Beck, EMBA ’12, fully realized her passion for the nonprofit sector, and she used her Merage School network—her fellow classmates, faculty and alumni—to reach her goal. “Shortly after graduation, I got what was essentially my dream job,” says Beck, who is currently CEO of Big Brothers Big Sisters of Orange County. “I know for a fact the board of directors at Big Brothers Big Sisters would not have selected me for the position without having my MBA. It definitely made me more confident going after my goals and has made me a better leader at the organization.”

Additional electives are available through other Merage School MBA programs.
Health Care Executive MBA Program

As the healthcare industry undergoes continued transformation, healthcare professionals and clinicians need to keep pace with the new industry landscape. Of the few MBA programs focused on the healthcare industry, even fewer offer a specialized sequence of courses and two experiential residential courses, making the Merage School Health Care Executive MBA (HCEMBA) program truly exceptional and one of a kind. Ranked among the top 30 in the United States by a national health journal, our HCEMBA program is designed for mid- to senior-level professionals, managers and practitioners from the intersecting worlds of biotech, medical device, pharmaceutical, managed care, healthcare services, and healthcare policy. Professional experience among these students averages 13 years, with a range from five to 25-plus years.

Key components:

• 21-month program starts every September
• Curriculum consists of 18 courses total, including:
  • 12 core courses
  • 3 non-core courses
  • 3 offsite experiential residential courses lasting five to seven days
• Core classes meet one extended weekend per month (Thursday evenings 7 p.m. through Sunday noon)
• A minimum of five years of work experience in the healthcare industry is required
• Fees for tuition, course materials, registration, parking, transportation and hotels for the residential courses are included in program costs, with the exception of airfare to the Federal Policy in Healthcare residential
• The GMAT/GRE exam is not required, but may be requested by the admissions committee
• Partial merit-based scholarships are available for qualified candidates
• Up to 30 CME units may be earned

“The HCEMBA program imparts the necessary strategic management skills to lead the evolving healthcare environment. Regardless of your role or sector, these skills are critical to success.”

Laura Schall Clark, HCEMBA ’12
National Sales Manager
AbbVie

In a recent HCEMBA Student Exit Survey, graduates rated the Merage School 4.5 out of 5 in their willingness to recommend the program to their colleagues and their likelihood in attending the program again, a key measure of student satisfaction—higher than the average satisfaction scores for all executive MBA programs in the survey.
Residential: Immersive Learning Experiences

1. Responding to Dynamic Times: Thinking Strategically for Healthcare Executives (Opening Residential)
   Scheduled prior to your first day of class, the offsite five-day Opening Residential course will introduce you to your class study groups of fellow healthcare professionals and the case study instruction. You will learn how healthcare organizations can be more effective in serving the needs of society through the lenses of operations, human capital management and leadership. You will also meet with your diverse small team for the first time and begin to form a group contract that will set the stage for effective group interaction as you begin the HCEMBA program.

2. Federal Policy in Healthcare (Residential)
   A highlight of the HCEMBA program, you will travel to Washington D.C. in year two for a week-long residential where you will learn firsthand how the legislative and regulatory process works. In this residential, you will use analysis to explain how firms successfully compete in both political as well as economics markets. You will gain an in-depth understanding of how current healthcare issues are debated in Congress, and you will also meet with healthcare industry leaders, analysts, politicians, and others involved in the process.

3. Leadership for Healthcare Executives (Closing Residential)
   The HCEMBA program culminates in a five-day residential course on leadership for healthcare executives. This course will provide you with a clear perspective on your assumptions as a leader, as well as how others perceive you as a leader. Through the course, you will learn new tools for improving your leadership as a healthcare executive. You will also prepare for the future through the creation of a Career and Life Plan. The focus is on actionable steps that build upon your experiences to move you forward as a leader in the healthcare industry.

Cassidy Tsay, MD, HCEMBA ’09, has always worked to change the system. But she found that as an internist in primary care, she didn’t have the time or the opportunity to fulfill that desire with an exhaustive schedule seeing one patient at a time. “If I was going to make a larger impact, I had to understand the world of business,” says Tsay who is now VP of Business Development at CAPG. “The language of business is different than the language of medicine, and I am able to help ‘translate’ and improve the way we approach physicians. Health plans want to do what’s right, and I constantly work to change the system with my skills in both medicine and business.”

First-place Business Plan Aims to Inspire Women Entrepreneurs

With a line of books, dolls and online entertainment, Middle School Moguls is a toy and media company promoting friendship, diversity, technology and entrepreneurship. Designed to inspire middle school-aged girls, Middle School Moguls was the brainchild of Gina Heitkamp, FEMBA ’14, and her sister, Jenae, a child therapist. Their business plan won first place in the Business Plan Competition presented by the Merage School’s Beall Center for Innovation and Entrepreneurship. The $15,000 prize allowed them to take the business to the next level, including the launch of a successful $50,000 Kickstarter campaign, and they were honored by the White House in 2015. “There are a lot of programs out there encouraging girls to get interested in entrepreneurship, science and technology, but most start later in high school,” says Gina. “Our goal is to start younger and, through aspirational play, show girls some of the many opportunities that exist.” Most recently, Middle School Moguls was awarded $350,000 in seed funding.
A Support Team Dedicated Solely to Your Success

An MBA program demands significant time and effort. Fortunately, at the Merage School, our staff will attend to many of the details you don’t have time for, so your focus is where it needs to be: learning and advancing your career.

We understand your busy schedule and support you by:

• Dedicated program advisors
• Ordering and distributing your course materials and books (EMBA and HCEMBA)
• Providing meals during your scheduled classes (EMBA and HCEMBA)
• Securing your parking passes
• Arranging social and networking events
• Recording most classes

Alumni and Networking: Connections for Life

As a Merage School graduate, you receive access to a variety of lifetime benefits. Your built-in network of global business contacts is just as important as earning your MBA. From the moment you walk through our doors, you become a member of a robust and influential group that stretches from Southern California across the United States and around the world.

Our vast alumni network is readily accessible, yet the Merage School community is small enough that you can easily establish strong personal and professional relationships. Our alumni are very engaged in supporting the Merage School and are an active, important part of your network.

Benefits include:

• Events and networking opportunities
• Career management resources
• Ongoing education and professional development

The Merage School Network

John Fowle, FEMBA ’09, was ready for a change in both his career and geography when he came across a job listing for a company he really wanted to work for in Colorado. “I realized the company’s CEO was a member of the Merage School’s Center for Health Care Management and Policy, so I reached out to the school’s senior director of marketing and admissions, and he made an introduction. I sent my résumé and was immediately contacted by the company’s recruiter and CFO, and the rest is history,” says Fowle, who is now vice president and corporate controller for Welltok Inc. in Denver. “The sense of community among Merage students, faculty and administrators and the frequent interaction with business leaders who serve on the school’s executive boards has made my Merage School network invaluable.”
Irvine and Orange County: Home to a Robust Global Business Culture

“You’re going to engage with a city that is not only one of the most developed, but it’s also one of the wealthiest cities in the country. Now, imagine what you can do with that.”

This is how Guillermo Gower, EMBA ’09, describes Irvine—arguably Southern California’s most business-savvy city. Irvine sits in the heart of Orange County, the center of Southern California’s Tech Coast and the primary breeding ground for on-the-rise businesses and industries—mainly biotech, medical, e-commerce, real estate, finance and auto design. California is one of the world’s leading economies, and with many global businesses headquartered in Irvine, this city and its robust business culture drives much of the innovation and commerce that makes Orange County one of the best places to live and work.
