Save the Date! Real Estate Breakfast Series

What are Corporate America's Real Estate Needs in 2011?
And How will that Affect the Business Environment of the Future?

Wednesday, January 19, 2011
7:30 to 9:00 am

Pacific Club
4110 MacArthur Blvd.
Newport Beach, CA 92660

What does tomorrow's companies space needs look like? Has the standard model of perimeter office/interior work station given way to more group areas? Has office sharing and "hoteling" become a larger component as predicted? What do they need from real estate service providers that they often don't get? Even more importantly, after two years of little to no growth, how do they see 2011 shaping up from a growth standpoint, and what are their projections compared to what we've experienced in the recent economic downturn?

Listen to what corporate real estate executives of some of the large corporations have to say as they discuss these issues, along with their view of the business environment in California and how it impacts their space needs. Start the New Year off right...join us on January 19th!
