MBA Programs

The Paul Merage School of Business offers both full-time and part-time MBA programs designed to meet the needs of each student. We graduate business leaders with the exceptional ability to help grow their organizations through strategic innovation, analytical decision-making, information technology and collaborative execution.

PhD Program

Our highly-competitive PhD program maintains a strong emphasis on business research that continues to contribute to global innovations in both teaching and practice.

Undergraduate Program

Entry-level business students not only learn business basics, but how to think strategically.

MBA Management Consulting Practicum

From supporting the introduction of a new technology in the consumer fuel cell industry at Toshiba America Electronic Components to identifying differentiating marketing variables at Wet Seal, companies take advantage of highly-qualified MBA teams co-mentored by world-class consulting firms.

Professional Experiences are Unique to the Merage School

Merage MBA students gain important experience in their specific interest areas, such as finance, marketing, and real estate, via innovative and interactive projects. For example, thanks to the generosity of venture capitalist and program mentor Chuck Martin, Chairman and CEO of Mont Pelerin Capital, student teams invest real money in the market via the Polaris Investment Competition. Profits can offset tuition, so students have a real-life stake in the game.

Our Outlook is Global

With our prestigious University of California heritage and our local Orange County entrepreneurial spirit, The Paul Merage School of Business sits as the hub for teaching and research among emerging and established economic powers. Our annual International Conferences – on topics that include doing business in China, India, and "Creating a Global Footprint" – are designed to deliver the up-to-date global perspective you need for business success.

Conferences and Events

From our annual internationally-themed business conference to a variety of panel discussions and faculty presentations offered via venues such as our Centers of Excellence, affiliated organizations and even student clubs, the Merage School maintains an active calendar for the community to increase the breadth and depth of business knowledge.

Research Colloquia

Globally-recognized faculty researchers and collaborators from the world's top business schools regularly present their findings – in fields from finance to leadership to innovation – at colloquia hosted by The Paul Merage School of Business.

Executive Education Programs

Organizations including Allergan, Boeing, and Ingram Micro collaborate with Merage School Dean Emeritus Newt Margulies to develop customized business education programs for employee groups. Individuals can also participate in ongoing programs like the Strategic Issues in Management Series – whether you have an MBA or not – that provide new solutions to executives faced with complex problems in rapidly changing, multi-cultural, technological, and competitive environments.

Media Experts & Speakers Bureau

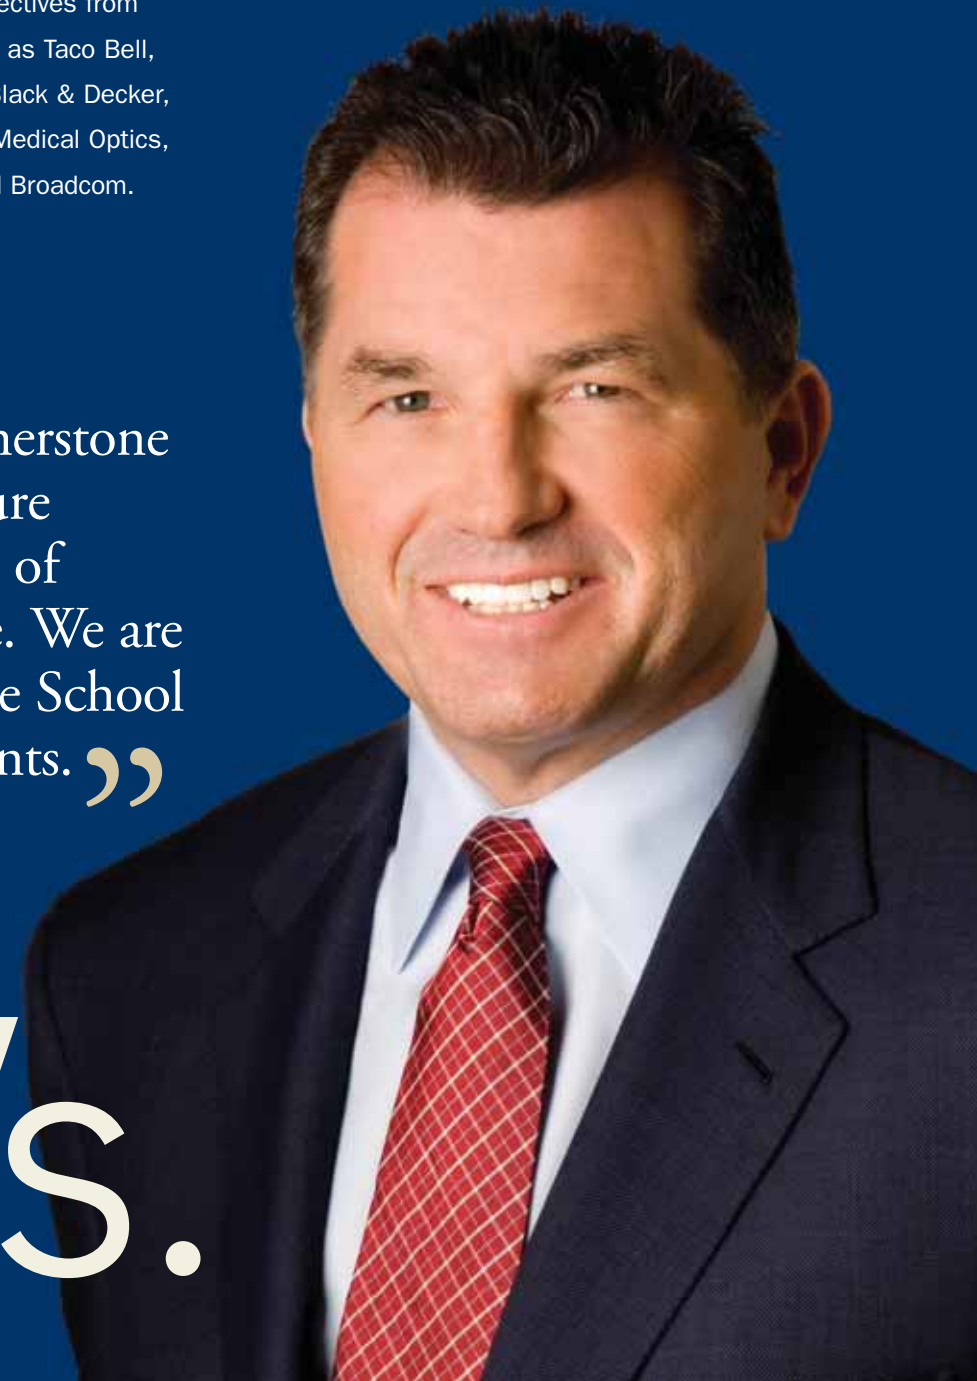

Merage School faculty experts are regularly called upon and quoted in the national press, including The Wall Street Journal, BusinessWeek and CNN. Their opinions and outlook are sought by audiences from 10 to 500 on a wide variety of business topics and industry panels.

Distinguished Speaker Series

World-class CEOs and business leaders provide perspectives from companies as diverse as Taco Bell, Northrop Grumman, Black & Decker, Quiksilver, Advanced Medical Optics, Deloitte & Touche and Broadcom.

“We believe that education is the cornerstone of success, and investing in our future business leaders is the responsibility of organizations and communities alike. We are proud to collaborate with the Merage School and be a partner for their achievements.”

As consultants to organizations around the globe and leaders in top professional organizations, our faculty stays at the forefront of current management practices.
