Are You Ready to Serve on a Board of Directors?

It takes a specific type of business person to become a Board member – someone who combines broad business experience with a passion for excellence. Importantly, preparing oneself for the role in a high-level learning environment is a critical component for success.

The Directors Training with FCD course teaches the fundamentals of becoming a director and the practice of good governance. The course provides a starting point to help you assess and develop your own training roadmap for the future and to further your skills to stay current on the ever-changing legal requirements.

This program is truly unique because instructors are drawn from the outstanding faculty at UC Irvine's Paul Merage School of Business and from leading southern California business executives. Together they'll take you through a highly interactive curriculum, including case studies and intensive study of governance issues.

This exceptional opportunity is brought to you jointly by the Executive Education Department of UC Irvine's Paul Merage School of Business and the Forum for Corporate Directors (FCD) of Orange County. The FCD is a not-for-profit organization whose mission is to promote excellence in corporate governance and boardroom leadership, and to help directors and executives grow their enterprise value. For additional information about FCD, please visit: www.fcdoc.org

THIS UCI-FCD DIRECTOR EDUCATION PROGRAM IS IDEAL FOR:

- C-level managers being groomed to work with boards
- New or aspiring directors
- Successors/heirs to a family business
- Individuals who want to add governance training to their background
- Non-financial directors who wish to enhance their knowledge
- Management Executives, Service Providers or other individuals who work with Boards
