

David Jay Ohanian is the Regional Manager for City National Bank's Southern California Private Banking Division. In this role he serves to integrate and drive the consultative Wealth Management model to include Banking, Investment Management and Trust. David and his highly skilled Private Banking team, work with high-net-worth families, business owners, corporate executives, as well as professionals and their firms, challenging and solving for their unique goals and objectives.

Prior to joining City National Bank, he served as the Managing Director for Union Bank' Private Bank in San Diego and Desert markets by driving innovative integration of comprehensive wealth strategies to affluent clients.(2013-2017)

Ohanian graduated Cum Laude from California State University Fresno, where he majored in Biology. His graduate studies include University of Pennsylvania, Wharton and National University MBA program.