

Laura Dang is currently a Private Wealth Advisor for The Private Bank at Union Bank. In her role she works with a team of specialists to deliver a broad array of wealth management services and solutions.

The Private Bank is an exclusive part of Union Bank dedicated to the financial needs of high net worth individuals, non-profit organizations, business owners, corporate executives and professional service firms. The Private Bank is built around teams of wealth management professionals who provide consultative relationships centered on the client's unique goals and dreams.

She began her career in financial services in 1986. Prior to joining Union Bank, she was with Bank of America for 21.5 years and Wachovia for two years. In her free time she enjoys spending time with my family and traveling.
