

With over 17 years of experience, Wendy Chen is one of CIBC's top relationship managers within their private wealth management practice. Her work includes developing customized wealth management solutions catered to the needs of her client. In addition, Chen oversees a number of CIBC's employee engagement and female initiative programs. Chen graduated from the University of California, Berkeley, earning her Bachelor of Arts degree in Legal Studies. Currently, she is an advisory board member for the Center of Investment and Wealth Management at the University of California, Irvine's Paul Merage School of Business.